WHAT IS THE 'BLUE & GOLD' CLUB?

It is a coterie of individuals and business organisations with a shared passion for sport.

'Blue & Gold' Club members attend a range of sporting functions to be thoroughly entertained and to enjoy the company of former teammates and fellow sporting enthusiasts. An insert to this brochure details the year's 'Blue & Gold' sporting functions.

All members ... but especially corporate members ... use 'Blue & Gold' sporting functions to provide affordable and really memorable entertainment for their guests.

Although 'Blue & Gold' sporting functions date back to 1997, the concept of a 'Blue & Gold' Club was launched three months prior to the Sydney 2000 Olympics at a function attended by 750 "good sports" and Lord Sebastian Coe as the guest speaker. The 'Blue & Gold' Club is now in its second decade.

WHY JOIN THE 'BLUE & GOLD' CLUB?

The 'Blue & Gold' Club provides its members with an opportunity to maintain or create links with Australia's premier University and its rich sporting traditions. All monies raised go towards the promotion of sport at Sydney Uni.

The various functions all have a special ingredient – that 'Blue & Gold' difference – which enables them to stand out from the crowd.

'Blue & Gold' Club members and their guests enjoy fine food and beverages at upmarket venues. The Club also...

- finances two 'Blue & Gold' sporting scholarships each year
- keeps its members up to speed on all 'Blue & Gold' matters of interest by sending them quarterly editions of ROAR magazine
- provides members with all of the benefits detailed on the opposite panel of this brochure

FUNCTIONS WITH A DIFFERENCE

The 'Blue & Gold' difference is wonderfully spontaneous humour. Large doses of university wit are an integral part of all 'Blue & Gold' sporting functions.

Adam Spencer (of ABC Breakfast Radio fame) is our resident panel moderator and there is no funnier ... nor more incisive ... interviewer in the business.

Our function guests are not subjected to past players recalling exaggerated stories of drinking and other exploits, that should have "stayed on tour" all those years ago!

FUNCTIONS WHICH STAND OUT FROM THE CROWD

- At the 'Blue & Gold' Cricket Luncheon, the nation's leading cricket commentators dissect the Australian summer of Test, One-Day and Twenty20 Internationals and whet our appetite for Australia's subsequent cricket challenges throughout the year.
- The 'Blue & Gold' Rugby Luncheon involves (mostly home grown) radio and television celebrities matching wits in the annual 'Blue & Gold' debate. The debate invariably leaves our luncheon guests laughing all the way to a post-function watering hole, where more good cheer and lots of "remember when" stories are the order of the day!

GOLF DAYS WITH A DIFFERENCE

The point of difference at our end-November Golf Day is that every player takes home a stunning Xmas hamper. It also happens to be played on one of the most picturesque and challenging links courses in Australia.

At all 'Blue & Gold' sporting functions, you and your guests will enjoy rubbing shoulders with both the sporting luminaries on the panels and with our own elite athletes. Sydney Uni has now produced well over 100 Wallabies and considerably more Olympians/Paralympians.

EXTENDING THE 'BLUE & GOLD' FAMILY

The 'Blue & Gold' Club is always keen to increase its membership, so please complete the inserted membership application form and enjoy the fun that we have in store for you and your guests this year.

A pleasing 'Blue & Gold' case history over the past decade involves Australian Water Polo vice-captain, Trent Franklin.

Trent was originally a 'Blue & Gold' sporting scholar. On completion of his undergraduate studies, Trent joined the 'Blue & Gold' Club as an individual member.

Trent subsequently formed his own company, Enrizen Insurance Solutions, which is now a 'Blue & Gold' Club corporate member that invariably takes a table at our sporting functions.
